DETAILED ACTION

This office action is in response to the Response to Restriction Requirement filed 7/29/2004. In the Response to Restriction Requirement, Group 1, claims 1-20 were elected with traverse. Claims 21-54 are withdrawn from consideration.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Aravamudan et al., U.S. Patent No. 6,301,609.

As per claim 1, Aravamudan teaches a notification system, comprising:

a monitor that monitors likely available states of an entity (see col. 7, line 49-col. 8, line 31); and a bounding system that classifies a notification to the entity according to a predefined protocol and the likely available states, the bounding system facilitating deferral of the notification based at least in part on the notification classification ~~(see~~ ~~column 5~~ column 5. lines (see col. 2, lines 25-49, col. 5, lines 53-col. 6, line 12, and col. 6, line 64-col. 7, line 20).

As per claim 2, Aravamudan teaches the system of claim 1, wherein the bounding system is a subscription service provided at a notification source that enables users to tag notifications according to a predefined priority (see col. 6, lines 13-31, col. 7, line 49-col. 8, line 31, and col. 9, line 64-col. 10, line 51).

As per claim 3, Aravamudan teaches the system of claim 2, wherein the predefined priority is assigned based upon the happening of a condition (col. 7, line 49-col. 8, line 31).

As per claim 4, Aravamudan teaches the system of claim 2, further comprising a subscription user interface to enable users to configure attributes of a notification (col. 6, lines 45-63 and col. 9, line 64-col. 10, line 51; it is inherent that a user interface is presented to the user because the user is allowed to configure attributes of a notification).

As per claim 5, Aravamudan teaches the system of claim 4, wherein the attributes are defined in a notification schema (see col. 6, lines 12-31).

As per claim 6, Aravamudan teaches the system of claim 5, the notification schema further comprising at least one of a notification class, a source, a source assigned priority, a sender, a target, one or more content components, a relevant context, and advanced attributes (see col. 6, lines 12-31).

As per claim 7, Aravamudan teaches the system of claim 5, further comprising a preferences profile for assigning priority based upon settings in the notification schema (see col. 6, lines 12-31).

As per claim 8, Aravamudan teaches the system of claim 7, further comprising a notification preferences editor to enable users to configure the preferences profile (see col. 6, lines 45-63 and col. 9, line 64-col. 10, line 51; it is inherent that a user interface is presented to the user because the user is allowed to configure preferences profile).

As per claim 9, Aravamudan teaches the system of claim 8, wherein the notification preference editor enables users to configure at least one of a context, a source type, a contact class, and a notification agent policy for directing received notifications (see col. 6, lines 45-63 and col. 9, line 64-col. 10, line 51).

As per claim 10, Aravamudan teaches the system of claim 9, wherein the context includes at least one of a calendar, time of day, and a device activity (see col. 7, lines 49-col. 8, line 31).

As per claim 11, Aravamudan teaches the system of claim 9, wherein the source type includes at least one of a human contact and an automated alert (see col. 5, lines 52-col. 6, line 31).

As per claim 12, Aravamudan teaches the system of claim 9, wherein the contact class includes at least one of key associates, family, and an InAddress Book (see col. 6, lines 45-63).

As per claim 13, Aravamudan teaches the system of claim 1, wherein the monitor derives context from at least one of a calendar, a time of day, a device activity, and a user location (see col. 7, lines 49-col. 8, line 31).

As per claim 14, Aravamudan teaches the system of claim 13, wherein the monitor determines the likely available states from the derived context (see col. 7, lines 49-col. 8, line 31).

As per claim 15, Aravamudan teaches the system of claim 1, wherein the likely available states are determined from at least one of an indication by the user, an office setting, an environment setting, an activity setting, and a driving setting (see col. 7, lines 49-col. 8, line 31).

As per claim 16, Aravamudan teaches the system of claim 1, further comprising a notification agent that directs notifications from one or more sources to one or more notification sinks based at least in part on the predefined protocol and the likely available states (see col. 5, lines 52-col. 6, line 31).

As per claim 17, Aravamudan teaches the system of claim 1, wherein the bounding system is a priorities system that automatically assigns priorities to notifications (see col. 7, lines 49-col. 8, line 31 and col. 9, line 64-col. 10, line 51).

As per claim 18, Aravamudan teaches the system of claim 17, wherein the priorities are assigned via a classifier (see col. 7, lines 49-col. 8, line 31 and col. 9, line 64-col. 10, line 51).

As per claim 19, Aravamudan teaches the system of claim 1, further comprising a max deferral setting that is associated with a notification priority to enable at least one of a delivery of the notification at a time-out of the max deferral, and deferral of the notification to the likely available free state (see col. 7, lines 49-col. 8, line 31).

As per claim 20, Aravamudan teaches the system of claim 19, further comprising a setting to enable designated notifications to at least one of be passed-through, and restricted during designated periods (see col. 5, lines 52-col. 6, line 31).
